FIGHTS AND DISORDERS.
Cries of "Murder!" and "Police!" and the blowing of police whistles together with a general fight among a number of men, near Prince and Royal streets shortly after twelve o'clock Saturday night, caused considerable excitement in that neighborhood. The fight was renewed from time to time. One man was arrested, but he failed to appear in the Police Court this morning and forfeited his collateral. One man was unmercifully beaten during one of the fights. The names of several participants have been given to the police and other arrests, it is supposed will be made.

A free-for-all fight occurred in the northeastern section of the city late Saturday night. The participants are said to have been negroes, one of whom was cut.

Some excitement was caused in the southeastern section of this city late Saturday night by the noisy conduct of two drunken men, one of whom was on Lee street and the other on Fairfax.

The screams of murder and police uttered by men and women in the southeastern part of the city on Saturday night was caused by the disorderly conduct of a drunken man who was being taken home. The police were called and much excitement ensued, but no arrest was made.

POLICE COURT.
[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]
The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Wilmer Delaplane, charged with vagrancy, was sent to jail for 20 days.

Henry Barnes, colored, charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

William G. Kenney, charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

Bettie Holmes, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

James Longbottom, charged with drunkenness, was dismissed upon promising to leave the city.

A white man, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

Ollie Johnson, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

A white man, charged with assault, was dismissed.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.
As had been feared, the injuries received by Robert, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Barrett, who was burned on Friday evening, while playing with matches, proved fatal. The little sufferer died early yesterday morning. The little boy was a grandson of Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett. The many friends and acquaintances of the family express their earnest sympathy with them in their sorrow over the death of the bright and promising little boy with the sad circumstances surrounding his untimely end.

The funeral took place from the residence on Duke street, near Royal, at 11 o'clock today. Rev. Dr. T. C. Tupper, of Atlanta, Ga., father of Mrs. Barrett, and Rev. Edgar Carpenter, of Grace Church, this city conducted the services. The interment was in Bethel cemetery. The funeral was private, only members of the family being in attendance.

SLIGHT FIRES.
Fire in the alley bounded by King Prince and Columbus streets shortly before 9 o'clock Saturday evening in a house occupied by colored people, was extinguished before any serious damage followed.

On Saturday evening a fire broke out in the roof of the frame building on Royal street, between Wilkes and Gibson, used by the Alexandria Iron Works. The fire was extinguished by men employed at the works and no alarm was sounded.

A fire in an upper room of the house on the southeast corner of Prince and Pitt streets yesterday afternoon was subdued by an extinguisher from the Columbia engine house.

There was a slight fire in a store on King street, between Pitt and St. Asaph last night, but the flames were arrested before they gained dangerous headway.

The alarm of fire at 11:15 o'clock this morning was caused by the burning of some trash in the rear of the Western Union Telegraph office, on King street, near Fairfax. No damage resulted and the flames were put out with an extinguisher of the Relief Hook and Ladder Co.

FUNERAL OF MR. TACKETT.
The funeral of the late Charles E. Tackett, who died Saturday of heart disease, was held from St. George's Episcopal Church at Fredericksburg Sunday. He was 61 years old, and prominent in business and social circles. He is survived by a widow.

The deceased was a son of the late John E. Tackett, born and raised in Fredericksburg and was the last of his family, his father having preceded him to the grave less than a year ago at the advanced age of 88 years. He was a member of the highest type of Christian character and was truly one of nature's noblemen.

He was educated at the Virginia Military Institute and was a member of the Board of Visitors at the time of his death.

THE SIMMONS-McINTEE CASE.

A large crowd appeared in the Police Court this morning expecting to hear the evidence in the case of William Simmons, who is locked up on the charge of ill treating Violet McIntee, a sixteen-year-old girl. The case, however, was not called, although it is expected that it will be investigated tomorrow when the complainant will be present to testify. One of Miss McIntee's brothers assured Chief Gools Saturday while the latter was at Occoquan that he would endeavor to bring his sister to this city today. The accused has secured Mr. Robinson Moncure as counsel. Application was made to Justice Caton this morning to release Simmons on collateral, but the request was refused. The police have reported that Simmons's father went to Occoquan yesterday.

Miss McIntee reached this city early this afternoon accompanied by her brother, Joseph McIntee. She will remain until tomorrow when she will testify against the younger Simmons. She has no complaint to urge against her father, who is alleged to have sent her for a relative in Occoquan; that she went on his boat, when it was pushed away from the wharf and proceeded to the dock at the foot of King street; that upon returning to the shipyard that evening the elder Simmons left the boat, but, Miss McIntee avers, she was left with William Simmons. She attempted to get ashore, but Simmons caught hold of her and prevented her from leaving the boat. She charges him with shamefully treating her, and that she resisted his advances with all the power she could summon. The next morning the elder Simmons gave her a dollar with which to purchase a ticket to her home. She denies that she told either of the men that she was hungry or that she had not been properly fed at the house where she had been staying. She said she always had plenty to eat. Miss McIntee when she first came to Alexandria lived with a family in the western part of the city and at one time worked in the shoe factory. She later resided with a family in the southeastern section of the city.

PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT.
A very delightful informal party was given Friday afternoon by Mrs. Chas. Ragan, in compliment to her guest, Miss Margaret Finks, of Alexandria, Va. Mrs. Chas. Matton and Miss Berta Ragan received with the hostess and honor guest in the parlor. An exciting game of "Old Maid" was provided for the guests and Miss Clara Harrison made the highest score, receiving a dainty apron for first prize. The honoree was presented with a pretty work bag. Following the game an ice cream was served at the tables. Mrs. Ragan is a charming hostess and this occasion was most pleasant in every way. (High Point, N. C., Enterprise.)

CARDINALS STILL WINNING.
The Cardinal Athletic Club easily defeated the Ballston baseball team Saturday on the fair grounds by the score of 14 to 2. Ballston used two pitchers, both of them being batted to all corners of the field, even over the sheds. Trenary pitched a good game for the Cardinals, only allowing the Ballston boys 4 hits. Astyrke's batting and K. Cockrell's fast fielding were the features.

The Cardinals will go to Purcellville Wednesday and play the team of that place.

DEATHS.
Mrs. Wadley, widow of James E. Wadley, died at the Alexandria Hospital this afternoon.

J. E. Bayless, a sailor on a vessel which arrived at this port last week, died at the Alexandria Hospital last night. The deceased was a native of St. Mary's county, Md. The vessel on which Bayless was employed proceeded to Washington after he had been placed in the hospital, but it is expected to return to Alexandria today.

Eva, the infant daughter of Mr. Turner and Mrs. Maggie Snelling, died at her parents' home, 623 South Patrick street, yesterday.

THE WEATHER.
The weather was warm again yesterday and at the close of the day the heavens became cloudy. Rain began to fall this morning, and there have been showers at intervals during the day doing much good to the parched earth. The temperature has been mild.

Indications that there will be no abnormally high temperature throughout the country during the coming week are found by the Weather Bureau in the distribution of pressure over the continent and adjacent oceans.

THE CHURCHES.
Rev. J. D. Gibson occupied the pulpit at Christ Episcopal Church yesterday as did Rev. L. M. Green at St. Paul's. Services at the Second Presbyterian Church were conducted by Rev. F. W. T. Pitman. At the M. E. Church South Rev. I. W. Carter preached. The pulpits of the other churches were occupied by the resident clergy. The congregations were not large in any of the churches owing to the large number of Alexandrians being out of the city.

FUNERAL.
The funeral of the late Albert J. Gaines, who died Friday, took place yesterday afternoon from the residence, 1119 Duke street, Rev. J. M. Holmes, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, officiating. Interment was made in Bethel Cemetery. The members of Alexandria Council, No. 5, Fraternal Order of Americans, attended the services.

BICYCLISTS FINED.
James Harris, William Brooks, and Richard Dawson all colored, were arrested by Officer Bell Saturday night for speeding bicycles on King street. They each left $5 for their appearance in the Police Court this morning. Dawson forfeited his collateral by failing to appear, and Harris and Brooks were fined $5 each.

The Gore Charges.

McAlester, Aug. 8.—Evidence as to the methods employed by the attorneys and the others interested in the sale of Indian lands was expected to be brought here today, when the congressional committee resumed the investigation of the bribery charges brought by Senator Gore. The testimony of Green McCurtain of Choctaws, and his son, D. C. McCurtain, who testified that they had been offered bribes to work for the approval of the contracts, started an entirely new tack in the investigation. The young McCurtain, in testifying that J. F. McMurray had offered him $25,000, when he was a Choctaw delegate, to work for the approval of the contracts, will probably result in McMurray being called before the committee, while it is in session here.

Rumors of an impending sensation were afloat when the committee resumed its investigation this morning. It is asserted that one witness, who has not been on the stand, if driven into a corner by the inquirers, will spin a story involving a congressman who is said to have solicited a bribe. This witness, it is understood, may not testify until the committee reaches Oklahoma City.

McMurray has already denied making such an offer to McCurtain, but it is evident the committee now wishes to go to the bottom of the Indians, affairs, and some drastic legislation along these lines is expected at the next session of Congress.

Expressions of members of the committee and others following the investigation closely, make it evident that even though the charges brought by Senator Gore should not be substantiated, the investigation will result in the Indians getting more of a "square deal" in the future.

Congressman Stevens, of Texas, pointed out that the government by treaty has agreed to dispose of the land for the Indians and give them the proceeds.

It is also believed that Jacob L. Hamon's influence in Washington on Indian affairs is broken.

Hindoo and Egyptian Turbans, Advance Fall Shapes $5

The Turban is going to be very popular this fall, as these advance models indicate; also the new and remodeled mushroom in the large hats is another of the new shapes we are showing.

These trimmed hats are made of taffeta silk, and a new corded silk in a crepe effect called "Undine" silk. A number also are silk and velvet combined, many being trimmed with velvet.

The trimmings are of wings, fancy feathers and large bows of the material.

The colorings are more on the dark and somber shadings, though nearly all the popular shades are represented.
